

Dear Students,

You are about to begin an incredible year of Torah learning, growth, and connection to Israel and to our wonderful staff and your fellow students.

We have put together a rich and diverse set of choices for you, as you learn Gemara, Tanakh, Machshava, and Halakha here in the Beit Midrash of Midreshet Lindenbaum. We have many options for taking classes along with your Israeli counterparts in Tochnit Hadas. These choices are indicated by an Israeli flag on the schedule and will give you the opportunity to improve your Hebrew as you get to meet new people and learn different perspectives. There are also slots for beit midrash time throughout the afternoons and evenings, to allow you to explore sefarim and topics that interest you, with a friend or with a teacher.

Please read the instructions and the course catalogue carefully as you choose from the array of shiurim in all the different areas of Torah learning. Feel free to try more classes than are required; you can always adjust as you settle into life at the midrasha.

Please feel free to be in touch with any questions. Can't wait to greet you here soon, be'ezrat Hashem!

Kol tuv,
Rabbanit Sally Mayer
Rosh Midrasha

Rabbanit Nomi Berman
Rosh Beit Midrash

How the Schedule Works:

1. The following courses will appear on your schedule, with no need to register for them:

Sunday 9:30am - 11:30am & Thursday 8:45am - 10:40am

Sefer Melakhim

Rav Alex Israel

Sefer Melakhim is an exciting and important sefer because it tells the story of the Beit Mikdash from its inception to its demise.

Although a challenging book to learn due to a plethora of names and lists, we shall find its drama and pulse, meeting powerful characters like Shlomo Hamlekh, Yerovam, Achav and Izevel, Eliyahu and Elisha, King Hizkiyahu, and understanding pivotal events of our national history. We will study both the narrative episodes, and make sense of the technical details, while learning the ebb and flow of the first Temple period.

פרשנות (Elementary HEB)

Rav Shmuel Klitsner

We will examine Sefer Breishit and other Biblical texts with the classic parshanim as well as with modern literary commentaries. The aim of this course will be to attune the reader's ear to the sophisticated deployment of subtext, context, and inter-text (allusions), as well as to the artistic use of ambiguity, repetition, key words, and wordplay. A greater appreciation of Tanakh as literature will lead to a more profound religious connection to Tanakh as kitvei kodesh.

Wilderness Tales

Rabbanit Rivky Krestt

The prophet Yermiyahu describes the love that בני ישראל have for Hashem in the מדבר as a young love where we followed Him in the desert. As a young nation, בני ישראל began their relationship with Hashem in wild, barren land that hosted our greatest moment of national history: Matan Torah. If everything had gone according to plan, it would have been a moment of glory before our national story really began. Instead, בני ישראל took a wrong turn and wound up in the desert for forty years. In this course we will consider why בני ישראל needed this change of course, what the forty years taught them about shedding the shackles of human bondage and how to wear עול מלכות שמים. Along the way, we will learn different literary/Biblical tools to understand the text and explore the theme of leadership.

Conversion- from the Talmud to the State of IsraelRav David Brofsky

In this course we will research a fundamental question which impacts upon our understanding of the nature of Judaism: How does one become a Jew. We will trace different attitudes towards conversion in Chazal and the Rishonim. We examine the process of conversion, including milah, tevilah and kabbalat mitzvot, delving into the sources which relate to each topic. We will discuss the different motivations for conversion, and how rabbinic sources, throughout the ages, related to different changing societal realities. Throughout the semester, we will trace the sources from the Talmud until modern day rabbinic responsa, as we develop the tools and skills necessary for the in-depth study of halacha. Aside from engaging this fascinating topic, this course will focus on developing essential skills necessary for the in-depth study of Halacha.

Sunday 11:40am-12:40pm & Thursday, 10:50am-12:40pmHilkhos Shabbat and Hilkhos Kashrut*Rav David Brofsky and Rabbanit Dena Rock

This class, co-taught by our outstanding Halakha faculty, will enable you to study the central and most practical laws of Shabbat, the Chagim, Kashrut, and other relevant and contemporary halakhic issues. Our goals include developing a methodology of learning Halakha, acquiring a familiarity with important Rabbinic figures and texts, improving textual and analytical skills, and gaining a greater understanding of the development and practice of Halakha.

Sunday and Wednesday, 2:45pm - 5:00pmYaakov, Yosef & the Expansion of the Jewish Family*Rav Yitzchak Blau

This shiur integrates traditional mefarshim and modern literary approaches to enhance our understanding of the second half of Sefer Bereishit. Starting with Rivkah's giving birth to twins, we shall explore the drama of family conflict between Yaakov and Esau, Yaakov and Lavan, and Yosef and his brothers. We shall discover stories of great moral insight and literary power.

ספר ירמיהו (HEB) Rav Shlomo Brown

In this class we will study Yirmiyahu, the prophet of the churban. His prophecies begin in the reign of King Yoshiyahu and continue until the destruction of the Beit HaMikdash.

We will study the prophecies chronologically, which is different from the order in which they appear in the sefer. We will also learn the parallel perakim in Sefer Melakhim and in Divrei HaYamim in an attempt to understand the prophecies from a more encompassing perspective. In addition we will study central concepts of prophecy, the nevuot hahakdasha, the symbolic acts performed by Yirmiyahu, the prophet's prayer, and others.

Foreigners in TanakhDr. Nava Finkelman

The Tanach was written by, for, and about Jews. However, its stories contain many foreigners as well: some friends, some enemies, both individuals and groups, commoners and kings. In this course we will take a deeper look at many of these foreigners, and try to figure out how their presence, actions and words help express the theological messages embedded in the texts.

Beit MidrashSunday afternoon 2:45pm - 5:00pm

If you choose Rav Gigi or Rav Oron's classes on Wednesday, you will have Beit Midrash time on Sunday.

Open Beit Midrash time is a wonderful opportunity to learn a sefer you're interested in, or to investigate an issue that is on your mind. A teacher will be there during each beit midrash slot and will be happy to help you as you explore topics, gain skills, and make the beit midrash your home.

יסודות בעבודת ה' (HEB)הרב ברוך גיגי*Wednesday 2:45pm - 5:30pm

This shiur will focus on Sefer Mada and Sefer Ahava in the Rambam.

During chavruta time, students will have the opportunity to gain experience with the fundamental works of Halacha. The goal of the shiur will be to enrich our understanding and connection to the mitzvot of kri'at shema and tefilla as well as gaining depth of understanding into the concepts of ahavat and yirat Hashem.

This course is cross-listed on the Israeli program schedule.

מהשבת ההלכה (HEB)הרב איתיאל אורון*Wednesday 2:45pm - 5:30pm

Through chavruta study and class discussion, we will investigate classic and contemporary halakhic issues from the Gemara through modern sources, with a focus on understanding the meaning and ideas behind them.

This course is cross-listed on the Israeli program schedule.

Sunday and Tuesday, 8:00pm- 10:00pm Bekiut

Bekiut TanakhDr. Nava Finkelman

In this course we will speed-learn the major books of Jewish history in the Land of Israel. We will struggle with Yehoshua as he leads us to conquer the land (or not); follow the downhill trend during the time of the Shoftim; immerse ourselves in the political intrigues of Shmuel; and cringe while we prepare ourselves for the train-wreck at the end of Melakhim. Finally, we will follow Ezra and Nechemia as they lead us back to rebuild the Beit Hamikdash! Students will learn all of the material in chavruta, and in shiur we will discuss the “big ideas.” By the end of the year you will have a clear grasp of how our nation coped with their political and military challenges while creating a social and religious identity.

Bekiut GemaraRabbanit Rachel Leshaw

Through learning all of Masechet Rosh Hashana, students will improve their independent Gemara learning skills, while also gaining a wider exposure to different types of Talmudic conversations. We'll focus on targeting chavruta skills and using shiur time to enrich our understanding of the topics being discussed. If you're ready to invest time in growing as a Gemara learner, this is the class for you.

בקראות גמרא (HEB)הרבנית שלומית שבות

Through a combination of chavruta preparation and class instruction, students will develop skills to prepare a Gemara text independently while gaining a deeper understanding of Talmudic methodology. We will study and complete מסכת ברכות.

This course is cross-listed on the Israeli program schedule.

Bekiut MachshavaRabbanit Davina Wanderer-Kriel

The aim of this course is to 'meet' central figures of Jewish Thought through a careful study of their ideas and values, while placing them in their historic context. Our journey will take us on a whirlwind tour through Bavel (Ancient Mesopotamia), Spain, Germany, Poland, France, and modern day Israel, allowing us to encounter thinkers such as Rabbi Yehuda HaLevi, the Rambam, Rabbi Shneur Zalman of Liadi, Rabbi Shimshon Raphael Hirsch, the Chazon Ish, Yeshayahu Leibowitz, and Emmanuel Levinas, amongst others. We will consider the nature of faith and how Jews understand what it means to live a good and meaningful life, through reading and analysing sources, grappling with critical questions, and forging a connection with those who have come before us, in order to spiritually impact our own lives. Come join the ride!

בקיאות מחשבה (HEB)הרב אביעד סנדרס

In this course, we will take a broad look at classic sefarim of Jewish Philosophy, including the Kuzari by Rabbi Yehuda HaLevi, the Rambam's Moreh HaNevukhim, Tanya in the realm of Chasidut, and works by Rav Kook and Rav Soloveitchik. Join us to learn these famous and fundamental sefarim of machshevet yisrael.

This course is cross-listed on the Israeli program schedule.

Monday, Tuesday & Wednesday mornings
Beit Midrash and Shiur

Gemara - Rabbanit Rachel Leshaw, Rav Itiel Oron,
Rabbanit Dena Rock

Monday & Wednesday mornings 8:45am - 11:40am

Tuesday mornings 8:45am - 12:10pm, followed by sicha klalit

There is no need to register for these classes; they will appear on your schedule.

We will begin the year with Masekhet Rosh Hashana, preparing during Elul for the Yamim Nora'im. After Succot, we will delve into Masekhet Bava Metzia. Gemara meets three mornings a week, with the time divided between chavruta preparation and shiur time. Your Ra'm is with you both in the beit midrash and in the classroom, helping you develop and hone your ability to decipher the Gemara and consider the conceptual underpinnings and practical and hashkafic implications of the topic at hand. You'll also enjoy special programming and spend Shabbatot with your Ramim.

Monday & Wednesday mornings, 11:50am-12:40pmWomen and Halakha*Rabbanit Nomi Berman, Rabbanit Rachel Leshaw, Rabbanit Sally Mayer

In this source-based course, we will explore the world of women in halakha - women and mitzvot, issues of sexuality, women in leadership positions, and more. We will understand where the halakhot come from, what the debates are all about, and discuss how this all relates to our lives.

Monday and Thursday afternoons, 2:45pm-5:00pmSefer Iyov*Rabbanit Avigayil Unterberg Nouriel*Monday 2:45pm-3:45pm

Why do bad things happen to good people? How do we respond when someone is suffering? How do we understand Divine Justice? Join us as we explore Sefer Iyov, a complex and fascinating sefer where we will reflect on these and other questions.

Parsha with DarkaynuMerav Edrei*Monday 2:45pm - 3:45pm

A wonderful opportunity to have a chavruta with a Darkaynu student, closing with a short shiur on the parsha.

AggadaRav Tuvia Kaplan*Monday 2:45pm - 3:45pm

Aggada is the treasure house of the wisdom of Chazal. In creative interpretations of Tanach, in stories and in metaphors, our Sages share with us their profound and inspiring understandings of man and God. Their philosophical, moral, theological, and psychological insights in aggada are the complement to their halakhic brilliance in making Talmud Bavli the foundational book of Talmud Torah. As does every living thing, our living Torah has a body and a soul -- halakha is the indispensable body of Torah; aggada is its soul. We will look for the simple meanings and deeper messages the aggadot of Talmud Bavli.

Survey of Jewish HistoryRav Johnny Solomon*Thursday 2:45pm - 3:45pm

In this course, we will carry out an intense survey of Jewish history from the first Temple period until today, while identifying various parallels relating to our contemporary situation.

Facing Our Emuna Obstacles Rabbanit Avigayil Unterberg Nouriel
Thursday 2:45pm - 3:45pm

How can I connect to God when he asks Avraham to sacrifice his own son? What does it mean that God wrote the Torah? How can I reconcile Halacha and modern values? Did Chazal struggle with the same questions as I do? Being a believing Jew in the modern world is not always an easy task. When learning Tanakh and Gemara, we find things that may challenge us in our day to day avodat Hashem and our overall emuna. In this course we will tackle tough questions that arise from our traditional texts and challenge ourselves to face them head on. We will work to find relevant answers and embrace nuance.

Mesilat Yesharim Rabbanit Sally Mayer
Thursday 2:45 - 3:45pm

Mindfulness. Intentionality. Self-reflection. These are buzzwords in our increasingly fast-paced and dizzying lifestyles. Mesilat Yesharim encourages us to stop and think about what we are doing, why we are doing it, and offers a multi-step method for self-improvement. Join us to learn this classic mussar sefer, as we discover together how it is relevant and resonant in our modern lives today.

Chassidut Rav Tuvia Kaplan
Monday & Thursday 4:00pm - 5:00pm

We will study how Chassidut added new insights into basic Torah concepts. The significance of simchah, the centrality of prayer, the power of Torah study, the meaning of emunah, and the importance of songs and stories.

Pirkei Avot B'iyun Rabbanit Sally Mayer
Monday & Thursday 4:00pm - 5:00pm

"If not now, when?", "The reward for a mitzva is a mitzva," "Judge everyone favorably" - these famous lines and so many others come from Pirkei Avot, a masekhet often read through quickly and without much thought. Join us as we delve into the wisdom of Chazal, seeking new insight into their statements, and growing from their teachings about middot and attitudes that shape our outlook on life.

Halachot You Didn't Know You Want to KnowRabbanit Yael Nitzanim*Monday & Thursday 4:00pm - 5:00pm

This course will explore practical halakhot you might never have realized are relevant to your day-to-day life... as well as some you've always wondered about but never had the answers to. We'll make our way through units including Navigating Your Caffeine Needs, Jewelry in Halacha and Halacha for College and the Workplace, discussing both the topic at hand as well as some broader questions in halachic methodology.

Beit MidrashMonday / Thursday 2:45pm-3:45pm (can choose one or both)*Monday & Thursday 4:00pm - 5:00pm (these two go together)

Open Beit Midrash time is a wonderful opportunity to learn a sefer you're interested in, or to investigate an issue that is on your mind. A teacher will be there during each beit midrash slot and will be happy to help you as you explore topics, gain skills, and make the beit midrash your home.

Tuesday afternoons, 2:45pmChessed / Internships

We work with several partner organizations in Yerushalayim that welcome our students as volunteers a few hours per week. In previous years, students have become "Big Sisters" for One Family, an organization that provides support for victims of terror and their families, helped at the local chapter of Friendship Circle, volunteered at Shalva, the Israel Association for the Care and Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities, or made weekly visits to Beit Sababa, a local nursing home. Students may also intern in places such as Yad L'Isha, an Ohr Torah Stone organization that helps free agunot. We work with each student to find a meaningful way to contribute.

Wednesday evenings

There are two options for Wednesday evenings.

I. The first is our classic Torah Seminar class taught by Rav Menachem Leibtag. The class is from 5:30pm – 10:00 pm with a break for dinner.

This seminar class will study Torah by methods of textual analysis. Through extensive study of medieval commentaries, we will examine the major themes of each sefer and their connection to the details of the individual narratives.

II. The second is Seder Erev with Rav Alex Israel from 8:00 – 10:00 pm.

Seder Erev enables you to learn a topic / sefer of your choice together with a chavruta or to use the time to review material that you are studying. Rav Alex will be with you in the beit midrash for help and guidance.

*8-9pm is one of the three potential slots for a chavruta with a Darkaynu student.

Chavruta: Midreshet Darkaynu

This is a unique in-house opportunity to combine learning and inclusivity. Join a Darkaynu student for a weekly chavruta. This meaningful experience will enhance your year by enabling a friendship with someone with special needs.

There will be three opportunities per week to register to learn with Darkaynu students – we encourage each student to find one that fits into your schedule. They are: Sunday 5:10-6:00pm, Monday 2:45-3:45pm, or Wednesday 8-9pm.

Seder Erev in the Beit Midrash Thursday 8:00pm - 10:00pm

Rabbanit Rivky Krestt, Cheryl Burnat, Rav David Brofsky

At seder erev, you have the opportunity to learn a topic / sefer of your choice together with a chavruta or to use the time to review material that you are studying. There will be faculty in the beit midrash for help and guidance. It's a wonderful atmosphere of Torah learning at night!

ISP: Individual Spiritual Plan - half an hour in your schedule

Each student at Midreshet Lindenbaum has a faculty mentor, who is there for you to meet with once every two weeks - to discuss questions, have a chavruta on a topic that you're interested in, or talk about an issue in Torah or hashkafa that is on your mind. A wonderful opportunity to have a faculty mentor dedicated to your growth and progress, at your pace.

ELECTIVES

Electives are another opportunity to customize your learning experience at Midreshet Lindenbaum. Students must choose at least two hours of electives per week - feel free to choose as many as you would like to try out; you can see what you enjoy most and find the right rhythm for your day.

Daf Yomi

דף יומי (HEB)

Rabbanit Sally Mayer

הרב שוקי רייך

Sunday, Monday, Wednesday & Thursday 1:30 – 2:30pm

Are you interested in covering a lot of ground in Gemara in a short time? Join us for a fast-paced, fun experience as we make siyum after siyum together! A great and easy way to improve your Gemara skills and learn lots of halakhic concepts and meaningful stories in a short time. No prior Gemara experience necessary. Rabbanit Sally's class will begin with Masekhet Taanit, a tractate full of incredible and inspiring stories. Rav Shuki's class will start with Masekhet Rosh Hashana.

* Rabbanit Sally's shiur will meet on Sunday, Monday, Wednesday and Thursday 1:30 – 2:30pm and will be taught in English.

*Rav Shuki's shiur will meet on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday 1:30 – 2:30 and will be taught in Hebrew.

Nach YomiRabbanit Nomi Berman*Sunday, Monday, Wednesday & Thursday 1:30 – 2:30pm

We will gain exposure to some of the less commonly learned books of Nach. The goal will be to complement (and avoid overlap with) the other Nach classes on the schedule. Our meetings will alternate between hevruta learning of the daily Prakim, and shiurim which will tie together some of the overarching themes that emerge from the texts. We will absorb the lessons of the neviim, be inspired by the poetry of David, learn from the wisdom of Shlomo, experience the chagim through the prism of their Megillot, and take a peek into the visions of Daniel.

Chavruta: Midreshet Darkaynu
Sunday 5:10 – 6:00 pm

This is a unique in-house opportunity to combine learning and inclusivity. Join a Darkaynu student for a weekly chavruta. This meaningful experience will enhance your year by enabling a friendship with someone with special needs.

Taamei Hamitzvot
Sunday 5:10 – 6:00 pm

Rabbi Aaron Feigenbaum

"Wait... Why do we do that?" In this class we will look at the Mitzvot in an attempt to answer that one essential question. After a brief study of the philosophical advantages, drawbacks, and limitations of assigning rationales for Hashem's directives, we will look at the breadth of Mitzvot to try to discern why we do them and how they enlighten our lives. So, why do we put a mezuzah on our door? Why is meat good, cheese good, but a cheeseburger bad? Why can't I text on Shabbat? Why do we shake a Lulav branch? Why, why, why, that's what we will learn to figure out.

Tehillim - Song of the Soul
Sunday 6:10 - 7:00pm

Rav Alex Israel

Study perakim of Tehillim that we recite in our tefilla. Become empowered in prayer and explore some exciting and challenging Biblical poetry.

Philosophy of Halakha
Sunday 6:10 - 7:00 pm

Rav Shmuel Klitsner

What are the philosophical underpinnings of the halakhic system? In what sense does the term Torah min Hashamayim (revelation) apply to ongoing halakhic development? How would a modern Jew find the balance between authority and autonomy? What are the boundaries and parameters of pluralism within halakhic debate? What are the mechanisms through which a timeless Torah remains timely and relevant? We will analyze primary sources, (Gemara, midrash, exegesis, & responsa literature) in order to uncover a vibrant debate on the nature and function of halakha. We will not shy away from asking difficult questions, and each student will be encouraged to begin forming her own sophisticated relationship with halakha.

Mental Health in Halakha
Monday 5:10 - 6:00pm

Rav Yoni Rosensweig

In this class, we will learn about the interplay between halakha and mental health, gain a deeper understanding of the legal mechanisms involved in this topic, and show how practical questions can be answered in this complicated field.

אתגרי האמונה בדורנו (HEB)
Monday 5:30 - 7:00 pm

הרב צבי קורן

We will study the foundations of Jewish belief as we explore topics such as the purpose of man's existence, faith in God particularly in times of crises, the nature of man's character and expressions of belief. We will raise questions and seek answers through classical and modern Jewish philosophy. The goal of our learning is to engage, internalize, and transform the philosophical ideas into our pragmatic Torah lives for now and for years to come.

This course is cross-listed on the Israeli program schedule.

Matmidot
Monday 7:30 - 10:00 pm

Rabbanit Dena Rock

Each Monday night, the Matmidot Scholars have the opportunity to visit the home of a different leader, scholar, or innovator to meet and learn personally with him or her. Past years have included sessions with Rabbi Kenneth Brander, Dr. Yael Ziegler, Rabbi Shlomo Riskin, and Rav David Stav, among many others. Under the guidance of a faculty mentor, each Matmida will also work throughout the year on an independent research and writing project, culminating in the publication of the Matmidot Scholars Journal.

Israel: Behind the Headlines
Tuesday 6:00 - 7:00pm

Jamie Salter

This course will meet twice a month. In each session, we will take a look together at the big stories in the Israeli news. We will dig a little deeper into the background, try and make the issues clearer, and probably have a few debates and arguments amongst ourselves!

The Variety of Modern Rabbinic Thought Wednesday 5:10 - 6:00pm

Rav Yitzchak Blau

Our community has some familiarity with Rav Soloveitchik and Rav Kook but is largely unaware of other major rabbinic thinkers from the past two centuries. In this elective, we will encounter, among other topics, Rav Hirsch on reasons for mitzvot, Netziv on the dangers of religious passion, R. Meir Simcha from Dvinsk on the nature of sanctity, R. Zadok of Lublin's quest for meaning, Rav Hutner's poetic beauty and psychological insight, and R. Yechiel Yaakov Weinberg on modern women and Judaism.

21- סוגיות בעבודת ה' במאה ה-21 (HEB) Wednesday 5:30 - 7:00pm

הרב איתיאל אורון

Modern times and ideas can present challenges to our eternal faith. How do we address these questions? How can we be modern, educated members of the broader society while maintaining our beliefs and practice? Join us as we explore the issues together.

This course is cross-listed on the Israeli program schedule.

Am Yisrael, Eretz Yisrael, u'Medinat Yisrael & The Thought of Rav Kook Thursday 5:10 - 6:10pm

Rav Ari Shvat (Chwat)

This course deals with the most relevant issues facing the individual Jew and the State of Israel in our historic, exciting and complex generation - in an intellectual, inspiring, and practical way. We will study various writings of Rav Kook, the "Spiritual Father of Religious Zionism," considered among Jews and non-Jews alike to be one of the most original thinkers of the century. Topics include: Can we be sure that the modern State of Israel is really the atchalta d'geu'la and not just another false messiah? How can we, as religious Jews, support a secular Jewish State? Are we a religion, a nation or something else? Tzahal (the Israeli army) - victories, dilemmas and halachic questions; Aliya, Israeli politics - The Right, Left, and the Chareidim; "The Focus on Israel"- why is the world preoccupied with us?

Rambam Thursday 5:10 - 6:00pm

Dr. Tamar Ross

In this course on Maimonides' philosophical system, we will introduce the major problems of Jewish philosophy, including science and religion, concepts of God, Divine revelation, miracles and free will.

הרב קוק (HEB)

הרב שאול וידר

Thursday 5:30 - 7:00pm

In this course, we will learn about and understand the fundamentals of Religious Zionist philosophy, through meeting some of the foundational texts of Rav Kook that influenced and shaped the movement. Through this study, we will gain skills to consider these ideas ourselves.

This course is cross-listed on the Israeli program schedule.

Controversial TeshuvotRav Johnny Solomon*Thursday 6:20 - 7:10pm

A deep understanding of halakha demands engagement with and study of She'elot U'Teshuvot (Responsa), and a deep understanding of She'elot U'Teshuvot requires a learner to be familiar with the responsa writer and their social and historical context. In this course we will study some of the most influential - and controversial - teshuvot that have been penned over the past thousand years. In doing so we shall delve into the halakhic creativity expressed in the teshuvot, and consider the halakhic and social impact of these rulings.
